About XTMPI

Xenia Tsolaki Metaxa Private Institute (XTMPI) is a private institute in Limassol, Cyprus. It has 8 departments, each with several programmes, on two campuses.

The problem: an old system and no hybrid teaching

XTMPI had used the same management system for decades. As the institute grew, academic management and financial control became hard. It wanted to combine distance learning with classroom teaching in one system, build timetables and schedules with its own reports, and talk to parents directly.

What XTMPI runs in Classter

- Fees and payments. Teaching and services are billed together, with online payments. Parents see their financial information in the parent portal.
- Hybrid teaching. Classter connects to Microsoft Teams, so teachers switch to distance learning on the common timetable.

- Timetables and reports. Staff build timetables and schedules for each programme, with reports across both campuses.
